

US Association of Martial Arts

Recognized Accrediting Organizations

The organizations listed below are recognized as the leading authorities in their respective fields. Therefore, certification from one of these groups will be automatically recognized by the US Association of Martial Arts. Just because an organization is not listed below does not mean they are not legitimate. In addition to these organizations, there are certain instructors and lineages whose legitimacy we automatically recognize and therefore will accept their certifications without question. Please contact the USAMA for more information.

Do you run an association and wish to be added to the list of USAMA recognized accrediting organizations? Visit our website www.Join-USAMA.com to find out how!
